'Health for Generations' – Aquilana Versicherungen has been committed to this guiding principle for the best part of 130 years. This company values direct and personal contact to its customers. This is reflected in the modern design of its new customer zone. Sustainable materials, plants and natural colours create a pleasing atmosphere.

The reception area is visually fascinating thanks to the round curves of the TICELL-N single-blade open-cell ceiling made of 'woven' aluminium. The integrated and highly efficient PUNTEO-N downlights feature superlative anti-glare properties while also delivering maximum light output for a pleasing and well-lit ambience.

In the consulting rooms, TICELL-N combines with the elegant TANGENTA-Q24 linear lighting installed above the open-cell ceiling and with LED spotlights to create unique light reflections, bathing these interior spaces in homogeneous light.

Aquilana's generously proportioned customer zone succeeds in creating interior spaces that situate customers and employees centre stage.
